Aditya Birla Memorial hospital to conduct free five ENT surgeries

Pune (Voice News Service):- Aditya Birla Memorial Hospital, Pune, Maharashtra's first Joint Commission International (JCI), USA and NABH accredited Hospital through their CSR initiative called "Helping Hand" will provide free ENT surgery to five patients. These free surgeries will be performed during the 1st 'ENT Live Workshop' in Pune, organized by Aditya Birla Hospital in association with AOI Pune on Sunday 29th September in front of 150 ENT Surgeons from Pune.

A free screening camp is being conducted from 23rd September – 28th September at Aditya Birla Memorial hospital to register for the free surgeries. Five patients from weaker socio-economic section and severity of their disease will be chosen for these five free surgeries. "Dr. Meghnad is one of the very few doctors who have been treating patients with this new Coblation technique. This new technique introduced by ArthoCare offers new lease of life in ENT surgeries. Hence we decided to introduce it in Pune and are organizing a workshop on 29th September with 150 ENT surgeons of Pune", said Ms. RekhaDubey, COO, Aditya Birla memorial hospital. "We are also extending the opportunity of getting free treatment using the new & advanced coblation technique to 5 patients through our 'Helping Hand' initiative. For availing the benefits of this initiative, the patients need to get registered between 23rd – 28th September".
